The Weekly Article from

FATHER SHANE CAMPBELL

This coming Wednesday, Shawna Helbling and 13 others from our parish will be heading out to the Steubenville North Conference in St. Paul, Minnesota. Our youth will be traveling with a group of about 75 youth, adults, and clergy from all over the Diocese of Bismarck. On Wednesday, they will start by having Mass with Bishop Kagan at the Cathedral of the Holy Spirit before departing on their journey. They will spend Thursday and part of Friday doing some site seeing, attending daily Mass and going to Valley Fair. Friday, they will start the conference in the afternoon with Mass. The conference is held on the University of St. Thomas campus in St. Paul, MN. It is a beautiful campus and a nice place for the conference to be held. While attending the conference, the students will hear national speakers, attend Eucharistic Adoration, have an opportunity for the sacrament of confession and of course have lots of fun and entertainment by the band SONAR, who we had in our parish a couple years ago. I ask you to keep all of the youth that will be attending this conference in your prayers. It will be a journey some of them will never forget!

July 19-25 is Natural Family Planning Awareness Week. I truly believe that this is one of the greatest gifts any couple can give their marriage. In the Diocese of Bismarck, we offer classes in 3 different methods; Sympto-Thermal, Creighton Ovulation Method, and Billings Ovulation Method. In our parish, we have Shawna Helbling who has been trained in the Billings Ovulation Method and will be starting to teach classes very soon. If you would like to learn more about Natural Family Planning or if you have questions, you can contact Shawna Helbling or Tara Brooke at the Office of Family Ministry at the Diocese of Bismarck or you can check out the website at www.bismarckdiocese.com/nfp. I ask you to please continue to pray for this ministry and the couples and individuals that are teaching and using it.

Have a wonderful and blessed week!
Fr. Campbell

History of Ringing Bells at Mass

The use of bells in the Church dates back to the fifth century when St. Paulinus, the Bishop of Nola, introduced them as a means to summon monks to worship. In the seventh century, Pope Sabinianus approved the use of bells to call the faith to the Mass. The Venerable Bede, an English saint of the eighth century, is credited with the introduction of bell ringing at requiem Masses. By the ninth century, the use of bells had spread to even small parish church in the Western Roman Empire.

Nearly 350 years after the introduction of the Sanctus bells to the liturgy, the Council of Trent (1545-1563) formally mandated their use during the celebration of the Mass. Thus the use of bells became a requirement and part of the official rubrics of the Mass for the first time.

The ringing of Sanctus bells is still required during the celebration of the Tridentine Mass (or Latin Mass) even today. Conversely the ringing of the Sanctus bells was made "optional" during the celebration of the Novus Ordo Missae (Latin for "New Order Mass") also known as the "new Mass" which was introduced by Pope Paul VI in 1969.

The bells are rung at three points during the celebration of Novus Ordo Missae (New Order Mass)

- Sanctus Bells are first rung prior to the consecration at the epiclesis where the priestly celebrant prays to the Holy Spirit to change the gifts of bread and wine to the Body, Blood, Soul and Divinity of Jesus Christ
- The bells are rung a second time as the priest elevates the presents of the Body of Christ
- The bells are rung a third time as the celebrant elevates and presents the chalice filled with the Precious Blood.
